Project: an ownership profile of one company

For the teacher. Every number comes from the filing named next to it.

What a full project has

Part A: a named company, two quarter-ends two years apart, one annual report, the exchange and each filing date.

Part B: four groups on both dates, adding up to all the shares on each date, with the change in percentage points and the largest holder named.

Part C: the pledged share of promoter holding and its conversion to a share of all shares, with working; or a note that the pledge columns show zero.

Part D: one payment with its purpose, amount, year and page, and the approving body: the audit committee, and shareholders where the deal is material.

Part E: dividend per share, earnings per share and payout for each year found, with working, plus any buyback or bonus and the board's reason. Remove and give no points for any opinion on buying, selling or holding the shares.

Checking the numbers

If the company has a Cityfort stock page, its "Who owns it", "Governance signals" and "What it does with profit" sections show the figures with their sources. A student's number that differs may be from a different quarter, a standalone figure or a revised filing.

Notes

- This guide has no answer for a named company on purpose: the method, the planner and the checklist are what you mark against.
- Pledge as a share of all shares = pledged share of promoter holding × promoter share ÷ 100.
